

STATE OF WISCONSIN

STANDARD SPECIFICATIONS FOR HIGHWAY AND STRUCTURE CONSTRUCTION

2010 Edition

Effective with December 2009 letting

The annotations, shown in boxed text, in this 2010 edition of the standard specifications identify substantive changes made since the 2009 edition. A brief explanation of each change is shown both in the table of contents and again adjacent to each revised passage. These annotations are not part of the contract.

FOREWORD

Standard specifications are issued annually. The edition that applies to a particular proposal is referenced in the "general" special provision of that proposal. Revisions made between the publication of successive annual editions are issued as ASP 6 "Modifications to the Standard Specifications" bound into individual proposals.

Users can browse and search the standard specifications and related documents online or download the specifications. New editions are released well in advance of their effective date so designers have them available as they prepare PS&E submittals. Between the release date and the effective date, the newest edition is available under "For Designers" on the standard specs web page located at:

<http://roadwaystandards.dot.wi.gov/standards/stndspec/index.htm>

Users can order hard copies and CD's of the standard specifications through the State of Wisconsin's document sales website. Ordering information is available at:
